6 DAY MOUNTAIN AND SEA

Mt Ramelau, the highest mountain in Timor-Leste, summits at 2963 meters above sea level and offers views of the north and south coast on a bright clear day. On a typical day its peak floats above the clouds providing the most spectacular sunset and sunrises for trekkers while overnight temperature drops to freezing cold all year round. Trekking to the summit takes approximately 3 hours from the highland village of Hato Builiko.

Atauro Island is a 90 minute boat ride from Dili. Depending on the weather, the boat trip can sometimes be challenging but well worth the trip as often a pod of dolphins trail the boat. The island's untouched environment is dominated by Mt. Manucoco where the peak's lower slopes and hills form a patchwork of farms where the residents are clustered. The Island offers a taste of old Timor and totally relaxed atmosphere. The island offers a relaxing atmosphere and a taste of old Timor.
